

Shaw Construction
300 Kalamath Street
Denver, Colorado 80223
TEL: 303-825-4710

March 22, 2018

Beth Coffman
Pro Lift Crane Service
10769 Turner Blvd.
Longmont, CO 80504

Beth,

The purpose of this letter is to recommend you and Ward and your business to those in need of the services you provide.

I have known and worked with Ward and Beth Coffman of Pro Lift Crane Service. I would guess for over 20 years. In my previous life as a framing contractor we began using them to pick trusses onto the single family houses we were framing across the Denver Metro Area. Over time as our business changed and grew they also changed and grew and adapted their business to what they have become today. A professional organization capable and qualified of lifting most anything their equipment has the capacity for. Their attention to detail, understanding of the effects and impacts of what they are doing is a comfort to a contractor such as myself. I have had them train my riggers, set up, tear down and maintain the self erectors that we used, squeezed them into places and circumstances that might appear impossible but they managed with creativity and aplomb. For the last 15 years that I operated my framing business and in the five years since that I have worked as a superintendent for a small infill builder and now as a project manager with the largest multi-family builder in the region I have used Pro Lift exclusively and will continue to do so for the foreseeable future.

Please feel free to contact me for questions about my experience.

Sincerely,

Tim Crossen
Project Manager